The Context and Significance of The America Play

Background and Inspiration

The America Play premiered in 1994 and immediately established Parks as a bold new voice in American drama. The play draws inspiration from the historical figure of William "Billy the Kid," but reimagines this figure as a symbolic representation of America's complex relationship with its own history of violence, mythmaking, and racial identity. Parks also references the figure of Abraham Lincoln, positioning the play within a larger dialogue about the American mythos of freedom and equality.

The play is set in a fictional reenactment park called "The Great Hole of History," where a Black actor, known as "The Black Barber," impersonates Abraham Lincoln in a kind of performative homage. The central figure, "Mr. Nobody," embodies the collective memory of Black Americans struggling to reconcile their history with the mythologized versions propagated by dominant narratives.

Core Themes and Symbolism

- Identity and Representation: The character's impersonation of Lincoln and the reflection on Black identity probe the ways in which history has been appropriated and reshaped to serve political and cultural agendas.

- Race and Power: The play critically addresses racial hierarchies and the enduring legacy of slavery, emphasizing how race continues to influence American identity and history.

The use of minimalistic set design and stylized dialogue enhances the mythic quality, blurring the boundaries between performance and reality.

- The Personal Journey: The narrative shifts focus to the personal story of the Black Barber and his relationship to his son, "The Ghost," symbolizing the ongoing legacy of history and the cycle of memory.

- The Mythic Reflection: The final scene explores the haunting presence of the past, emphasizing that history is never truly past but persists in collective consciousness.

Main Characters

- The Black Barber: The protagonist, who embodies the act of impersonation and the struggle to reconcile personal and collective histories.

- Mr. Nobody: An archetypal figure representing the nameless, faceless masses whose stories are often erased.
